Wolfson Admits Avery Will Keep Ward Control

Showdown Battle Opens at Annual Stockholders' Meeting

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Financier Louis Wolfson said today he will win three or four seats on the Montgomery Ward board but conceded that Chairman Sewell Avery will retain control.

Wolfson, handsome, 43-year-old financial wizard, made the concession to newsmen at the annual Montgomery Ward stockholders' meeting, showdown phase of the world's biggest proxy fight.

But he said he is "sure" of electing "three and possibly four" of the nine directors, and he said it is "a certainty" that he will win outright control next year.

If he succeeds in naming three directors, they presumably would be himself, his brother Cecil, and his long-time associate, Alexander Rittmaster.

Play for Big Stakes

At stake in the bitter proxy fight was control of the 721-million-dollar retail and mail order chain, with its huge cash surplus of 327 million dollars.

Wolfson made a 10-minute speech when a stockholder, Albert M. Sheppard of Chicago, said he wanted to hear from the "champion and challenger both."

He said he will be a minority member of the board but will make motions at directors' meetings for his entire expansion program "even though I may be voted down time and time again."

Wolfson ignored suggestions that he mount the stage but spoke through a microphone in front of it, with his back to Avery, the 81-year-old opponent, and the rest of the Ward directors.

"Please excuse my back," he said to the directors, "but I expect to be employed by the people sitting in this audience."

Avery didn't hear. After Wolfson had finished speaking, Avery went to the microphone and indicated that he had not been able to hear what Wolfson had said.

Ballots then were distributed over the objections of Wolfson supporters, who asked for a question and answer period.

The balloting, however, was expected to have little effect on the outcome as most votes had been cast by proxy.

The meeting was called to order by Avery, 81-year-old ruler of Montgomery Ward since 1931, at 10:40 a. m. CST. Shortly afterward it broke into a dispute over procedure when a Wolfson supporter demanded an "accounting" of Avery's stewardship.

David Goodkind, Wolfson's tax consultant, asked for the accounting and demanded that voting be held up pending the discussion.

The audience burst into boos and shouted, "Sit down."

Goodkind said the stockholders should be given a chance to hear both sides of the controversy.

"It is therefore morally wrong to ask the stockholders to vote first, before a discussion of the issues involved."

PMW Official Protests Halt to Food Distribution

Eugene Hughes of Harrisburg, board member of District 11 of the Progressive Mine Workers of America, today protested to Gov. William G. Stratton the announced stoppage of distribution of Surplus Food Commodities.

Hughes, who said that he had received word that distribution of these federal commodities in Illinois would halt with the deliveries next month, sent the following telegram to the governor:

"We have been advised that distribution of Surplus Food Commodities will be discontinued next month. This food is essential to the livelihood of many people. The Progressive Miners protest against the withdrawal of this food and ask that you act to continue distribution."

Hughes said he understood that all the state has to pay for is the distribution, that they are furnished by the federal government. In giving notification that the distribution would be stopped next month, no reason for the action was given, he added.

Trucks have been bringing these commodities into Saline county and other communities with persons who are unemployed and those on assistance rolls eligible to pick them up.

Siamese Twin Girls Successfully Separated in Surprise Operation

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Doctors today gave the 6-month-old Andrews Siamese twins an excellent chance to recover from a dramatic, unplanned separation of their joined bodies.

The operation on the twins, joined at the head, at Mercy Hospital Thursday night was the third Siamese separation here in 28 months.

Msgr. John W. Barrett, director of hospitals for the Catholic archdiocese of Chicago, said "We started out with the idea of an exploratory operation, but things went so well we continued until it was over."

The operation was termed "100 per cent successful."

Fourteen surgeons and specialists participated in the four hour and 40 minute operation, which ended at 8:20 p. m. EST.

If the girls—Deborah Marie and Christine Marie—survive, they will be the first head-joined twins to do so.

The famed Brodie twins—Roger Lee and Rodney Dee—were also joined at the top of the skull. But Roger Lee died 34 days after an operation on Dec. 17, 1952. Rodney Dee, now 3½ years old, is thriving.

Three weeks ago, a set of 22-month-old girls from Thailand (formerly Siam) were successfully separated. They were joined at the chest.

The blonde, blue-eyed girls were believed to have a better chance for survival than the Brodie twins because of separate circulatory systems and brain coverings.

The girls cried when they were put in separate cribs after the operation, Barrett said.

"Barring complications, the outlook for the children is very favorable," he said.

The sisters are the children of Wilfred Andrews, 38, a salesman, and his 33-year-old wife Norene, a registered nurse. The Andrews have another daughter, Patricia, 5.

Deputy Sheriff Everett N. Sneed said that he and Sheriff William T. Barrett rushed to the scene, that they met the ambulance taking Miss Wenzel to the hospital as they were going out. Sneed said that Johns talked to him, asking him how bad he thought Johns was hurt.

State Policeman Adolph Sweat said that when he arrived the two had been moved, but that the wreckage was divided into three main parts, with numerous small pieces scattered around.

Isam Threest, city patrolman, went with the ambulance to pick up the two and said Johns told him to take the girl first. Johns also told him to call his brother, giving him the telephone number.

Richard Ora Wyatt, 66, 212 West Oak street in Carrier Mills, died yesterday at 9:15 p. m. after a lingering illness. He was a retired miner last working for Blue Bird coal company.

Mr. Wyatt was a member of the Carrier Mills First Baptist church where services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. Rev. Ernest Ammon, the pastor, will officiate, assisted by Rev. Eugene Nolen, and burial will be in the Salem cemetery. The body will lie in state at the family residence.

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Wyatt, he married Etta Davis May 5, 1917. Besides his wife, he leaves two brothers, James Wyatt of Carrier Mills, and Chester Wyatt of Dayton, Tex.

"Pallbearers will be Logan Furlong, Bluford Hetherington, Roy Barnes, James Craig, Wendell Holmes and James McDermott."

Honorary pallbearers are Ed Koister, Ed Wallace, Willie Tanner, Lester Pickering, Homer Jamerson, and Ernie Overstreet. Flower girls will be neighbors and friends.

The Miller funeral home is in charge.

Wenzel Death Accidental, Jury Reports

An inquest into the death of Betty Jo Wenzel, 23, Shawneetown, was held at the Saline county court house last night and the coroner's verdict was that she died in an auto accident on Route 13 west of Harrisburg Sunday while in company of Bronzel Johns.

There were five witnesses. Four told of being at the scene of the crash and the fifth, Dr. W. D. Tuttle, testified that when the girl was brought to Lightner hospital he found she was in shock, that she apparently had a fractured skull and obvious fractures of both arms, besides other injuries.

In his opinion she died of the shock.

James Edwards, night watchman at Sahara 6 mine, told of coming up on the wreck two and a half miles west of town at 5:55 a. m. when returning home from work. Johns was on the wreck, the woman on the ground about 25 feet from him, and neither was conscious at the time, he stated.

White House Refuses to Let Aide Testify

Sen. Langer Asks Questioning of Rabb on Corsi Ouster

By United Press

The White House rejected today a congressional request for testimony by one of President Eisenhower's assistants.

Chairman William Langer (R-N.D.) of a Senate Judiciary subcommittee had sought testimony by Presidential Assistant Maxwell J. Rabb on the ouster of Edward J. Corsi as refugee adviser to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

In disclosing rejection of Langer's request for Rabb's testimony, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said:

"The White House believes that confidential assistants to the President should not testify in regard to confidential matters within the White House, offices or between the departments of the executive branch of the government."

Other congressional news:

Dixon-Yates: Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said Congress should demand explanation of the Atomic Energy Commission's action in approving selection of Ebasco Services Inc. as engineer-architect and contractor for the Dixon-Yates power plant. Kefauver and others have said Ebasco made a "fiasco" of a power project at Joppa, Ill. Kefauver said "I hate to see the government have another fiasco."

"Sweatshop": CIO President Walter Reuther told a Senate Labor subcommittee studying minimum wages that "unconscionable employers are creating 'ghost towns' in many areas by moving plants to cheap labor areas. The CIO wants the minimum wage boosted from 75 cents to $1.25 an hour. The administration wants the minimum increased to 90 cents."

Strength: Democrats argued that the Formosa crisis has proved the President made a mistake in ordering cuts in military strength.

House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack (Mass.) pointed to testimony by Navy Secretary Chas. S. Thomas and Adm. Robert B. Carney, Chief of naval operations, before a House appropriations subcommittee Feb. 11.

The secret testimony made public Thursday the two officials said the Navy cannot maintain its present strength in the Far East if it must reduce its total manpower as much as the President has ordered. The Navy was ordered to drop 62,000 men in the two fiscal years starting last July 1.

McCormack said the President's cutback was a "calculated risk that should not have been taken."

Turkish Skepticism of Co-Existence Angers Nehru at Bandung Parley

BANDUNG (U.P.)—Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru exploded with anger today at the Afro-Asian conference when the Turkish delegate expressed open skepticism of the idea of peaceful co-existence with communism.

Nehru, who had joined forces earlier today with Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-Lai in a defense of Communist policies in Europe, took bitter exception to remarks by Turkey's Fatin Rustu Zorlu in a no-holds-barred meeting of the conference political committee.

"War is approaching," Nehru said, and the only way to avoid it is to "lessen tension through peaceful co-existence."

Nehru then issued a passionate appeal to the United States and Russia to stop making atomic and hydrogen bombs and submitted a proposal to place the conference on record as opposed to nuclear weapons.

The clash between Nehru and Zorlu was touched off when the Turk made a speech unholding the principles of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and said his country was extremely skeptical of Nehru's principle of co-existence.

It came during a discussion by the 29-nation conference of world peace and relaxation of international tensions taken up by the political committee when the conference became hopelessly snarled on whether Communist "subversion and infiltration" threatened a new form of colonialism.

Nehru, in an angry voice, asked why the countries of the world should align themselves in pacts like SEATO and then arm themselves with radioactive bombs.

He said India was taking a realistic view in shunning military alliances and criticized Pakistan for lining up with the Western world.

Nehru bitterly said Turkey's attitude and policy would lead "finally to war because two world blocs are arming. The result will be war. Countries of Asia are joining world blocs . . . and the results will be war."

A nine-nation subcommittee trying to write a resolution condemning colonialism was unable to reach agreement and adjourned until Saturday without a decision.

The main political committee moved on to a study of world peace and cooperation under which Ceylon is expected to ask that Formosa be placed under a trusteeship.

Charges Split Group

Sir John Kotewalla of Ceylon, who suggested trusteeship at a press conference Thursday, failed again today in his efforts to call an eight-nation conference on the subject of Formosa.

Kotewalla's charges that Communism is a new form of colonialism split the 29-nation group down the middle, shocking the neutrals, the Communists and the pro-Communists.

Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru joined Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-Lai today in denying Kotewalla's charges.

Nehru and Chou said Kotewalla was wrong about Communism, and they firmly insisted that such Eastern European nations as Czechoslovakia and Poland are free and independent and not colonies of the Kremlin.

A reporter pointed out to White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty that the DAR had "in effect, condemned the President's atoms-for-peace plan" in a resolution Thursday. Hagerty shrugged, saying he had no comment.

Expected Personal Call

The Congress program had announced that both President and Mrs. Eisenhower "have accepted the invitation to the 64th Congress" and delegates had been anxiously awaiting a promised personal visit all week.

Mrs. Eisenhower, who to the daughters' delight became a member and personally greeted the DAR in 1953, bowed out earlier in the week, choosing to return to the presidential farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

But there still were no hard feelings until the President still failed to show after returning to Washington. Nothing, at least, like the 20-years of "no speaking" between presidents and the DAR during the Roosevelt-Truman days. That started when former President Roosevelt addressed the daughters of the "fellow immigrants" Mr. Truman did nothing to heal the breach.

The daughters' President—less last session today was devoted to the last of committee reports, installation of new officers and other unfinished business.

Sentence Youth to State Commission

One youth was sentenced to the Illinois Youth Commission, two were placed on three-year probation and three persons pleaded innocent after their arraignments before Circuit Judge Harold L. Zimmerman yesterday.

Sentenced to the Youth Commission was Robert Carroll of Chicago, one of two youths charged with the larceny of Claude Shelton's auto from the Carrier Mills school grounds. His companion, George Batelli Jr., also of Chicago, was not arraigned.

Placed on probation for three years on burglary and larceny charges were Donald Fann, who lives north of Eldorado, and Paul Edward Lukancic of Harrisburg.

Pleading innocent to charges of burglary and larceny were William and Ralph Roberts of Eldorado and Frank Greeley of Harrisburg.

Berl Maddox of this city, charged with contributing to the dependency of her children, was sentenced to a year at the Dwight Institution for women, then placed on probation for a year, when arraigned this week before County Judge Trafton Dennis.

Shy Man with Shaggy Hair

Editorial — BY BRUCE BISSAT

Five minutes after the great brain of Albert Einstein was stilled, all its fabulous perceptions of the nature of the universe were erased. Luckily for the world, the greatest of these already have been engraved on the tablets of science. They will endure through centuries.

And so will the memory of this towering figure, whose incomparable achievements in mathematics and theoretical physics seem sure to place him alongside Newton, Euclid, and other scientific giants.

Einstein thought and worked on a mental plane so high that few men could understand his more advanced theories. Yet most people, without grasping the significance of his contribution to mankind, somehow realized that he was important.

They did appreciate, too, that some of his notions of the nature of matter and energy led to the concept of vast energy compacted
within the tiny atom, and that this theory laid the foundation for the present development of atomic energy.

In this respect, though other men who followed worked out the specifications that made atomic force
a practical reality, Einstein was the father of the atomic era.

There was a deep irony for him in this fact. He was a refugee in America from the anti-Jewish fanaticism of the Nazis. He abhorred violence and was a genuine pacifist. It pained him to see the colossal power of atomic energy turned to destructive aims.

Occasionally, small-minded men
in this country, which was glad to give him refuge for more than 20 years, dared to equate his pacifism with some kind of subversion. Evidently they feared he worked an insidious influence upon younger scientists who sat at his feet.

They never quite mustered the nerve to call him before some congressional committee. It is good they did not. They would only have humiliated themselves
and their country.

In truth America and all the free world were fortunate that Einstein chose to make this nation his refuge home. Here he was free to think without political direction or control. Here he was able to go on adding to the great pyramid of his knowledge.

When Einstein, as a young man,
turned from his job as a clerk in the Swiss patent office, where he gained a scientist of heroic state,
now its loss is deep as this shy man with the shaggy hair, the floppy sweatshirt and shiny trousers
passes from the scene at 76.

His indifference to clothes symbolized his independence of material things. His only needs were a pen and pad. With them he could log the great explorations he made

Administration May Seek New Emergency Controls

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA)— Authority to establish full economic controls over prices, wages and credit in case of emergency war
mobilization will be requested from Congress by the Eisenhower administration within the next month.

The occasion for this reversal of Republican policy will be Defense
Mobilization Director Arthur S.
Flannery's appearance before the Banking and Currency Committee.

He will ask for extension of the Defense Production Act, which is due to expire June 30, 1955.
Amendments will be offered to give the government broad new authority for emergency economic controls.

The government has not had this authority since the economic stabilization sections of the Defense
Production act of 1950 expired in 1953.

ONE OF PRESIDENT EISEN-HOWER'S FIRST acts after coming to the White House was to end
price and wage controls.

This was in compliance with the Republican platform pledge of 1952. The administration was committed to a free economy.

Last December, however, Edward F. Phelps, Jr., was brought into ODM as Director for Stabilization.
His assignment was to develop
plans for stepped-up or all-out mobilization.

Mr. Phelps had served as director of the Food Price division of OPA in World War II. During the Korean emergency he was director of Price Operations in OPM.

While most of the officials who had anything to do with either of those unattended organizations got burned, Mr. Phelps is back for more. His experience in two wars makes him a natural choice for the new stabilization planning.

He has, however, had to start from scratch. The authority for the Korean war price and wage stabilization program was allowed to expire in 1953.

THERE IS NO LAW ON the
books now which would permit the President to freeze prices and wages
and credits, though some people think he might do it under his inherent, Constitutional powers.

Also, Mr. Phelps is faced today with an entirely new set of conditions in trying to draft stabilization legislation for a future emergency.

The U. S. economy was running at a rate of under $100 billion a year gross national product in 1940.
Today it is $365 billion. Controls
today would have a far greater impact on the economy.

A second new problem is created by the atomic bomb threat. Trying to discover what the economic consequences of an H-bomb blast
would be, and trying to make allowances for them in stabilization laws involves some brand new calculations that even an electronic brain can't make.

One of the political principles that Mr. Phelps has to consider in his planning is that the Eisenhower administration would like to use indirect controls, primarily.

THIS MEANS USING TAXES
and credit controls to prevent inflation, rather than direct price
and wage controls which deal more
with the effects of inflation.

It is fully recognized, however,
that for all-out war and mobilization, indirect controls will not do the job. The nation's tax bill is now over $50 billion a year. Adding $50 billion a year to this to finance a war and control inflation

has its limitations.

The whole complex of price and wage controls, along with some new ones that haven't been thought of before will have to be used if there is another war. This being the case, the planning job that Mr.
Phelps and his ODM staff are now working on involves improving the techniques of the last two wars
and trying to avoid all the horrible
mistakes of OPS and OPA.

The climate for getting Congress to approve this program is now believed to be better. This is not an election year, so it won't be a political issue.

The threat of a new war in the Orient has made more people realize that a complete stabilization plan has to be in the law books,
ready for instant use if needed.

Waiting till the shooting starts and then trying to improvise, as in 1950, won't work. And any idea that the Republican administration won't go for stand-by price and wage controls is wrong, says Mr.
Phelps.

At a hand-gallop, Jesse swung
his hunters south for Texas
and the border.

In March, 1865, Texas was literally the "long star" remaining
in the battle flag of the Confederacy.

Before the month was out, the fugitive Missourians, driven by
that nostalgia for their hardwood forests and creek-watered bottomlands which was later to characterize their odyssey, began the long journey home. With Jesse at the time was the ragtag remnant of his dwindling command—15 gaunt, hopeless men. Crossing the Missouri border a week later, they were ambushed by a waiting Federal patrol. Again, Jesse killed the Union commander, but when his followers had skimmed the fence
rails to scatter and find safety in their beloved woodlands, their number was less by four.

The 30 days which followed saw six more of the guerrillas trapped
and killed in clashes with the relentless Blue patrols. The word was out that Jesse James had come home.

At month's end, Jesse was down to his last, long-gamble plan: he would leave his remaining followers where they were, hiding at the Carroll County farm of his great-uncle, Jesse Stevens, and make one final effort to break through the Union patrols swarming between him and his Clay County
home.

His instructions to the others
were brief but detailed with the usual care. His followers were to wait 24 hours, then follow him
into the home county, one by one.
He gave each a different route and departure time, warned all to be at the Samuel farm before midnight of the next day. At that time and place they would hold their final decision.

In a Mother Hubbard cloak and high-brimmed Sunday bonnet borrowed from his great-aunt, he drove the Stevens' fast Morgan mare and sprang sulky into the Union headquarters town of Liberty in broad daylight. There, he put the mare up in one cousin's
ivery stable, sauntered down the main street to a second cousin's woodyard, walked in through the front-office door, and disappeared.

With the afternoon sun standing low in the west, a high-piled wag-onload of hickory cordwood pulled out of the yard under a bill of lad-ding for Centerville and the empty woodshed of Dr. Reuben Samuel.
The heavy draft horses which drew
the wagon were held on their jingling trot by a 16-year-old lad whose name, for the Union record, was Hibbard Woodson—but whose mother's maiden name had been James.

Shortly before 10 o'clock that night, the cordwood was properly
stacked in the Samuel shed and Jesse, dirty and haggard and limping
with the stiffness of his hours
in the packing box beneath the logs in his cousin's wagon, was pacing the closely curtained lamp-
light of the Samuel sitting room.

Back in the sitting room, Ze-relda Samuel put her Bible aside,
spoke her mind, hard and sharp.

It was voted to hold a bazaar
at the next meeting to be held at Karel park, with each member to bring a guest. Mrs. Florence Wesley will be hostess.

The meeting was dismissed in prayer by Mrs. Wesley, then the social hour was enjoyed by all.
Each member brought a lovely gift to the hostess and the door prize was awarded to Mrs. Emma Hall. Games and contests were played and prizes awarded to Mrs.
Keturah Lasseter, Edna Lasseter,
Emma Hall and Miss Zella Greenfield.

Those present were Mrs. Dora Mings, Mrs. Edna Lasseter, Mrs.
Keturah Lasseter, Mrs. Myra Weir, Mrs. Opal Wiseman, Mrs.
Eleanor Richardson, Mrs. Florence Wesley, Mrs. Cora Naugle,
Mrs. Emma Hall, Miss Teoria
Greenfield and Zella Greenfield,
Mrs. Naomi Jones, Mrs. Essie
Musgrave, Mrs. Mavis Taylor,
Mrs. Nancy Taylor, Mrs. Steve Taylor, Howard Todd Taylor and the hostess, Mrs. Bert Jones.

DEATH OF A LEGEND

By WILL HENRY

THE STORY: As a member of
"Bloody Bill" Anderson's raiders, Jesse James engages in border
fighting during the Civil War. Later, the guerrillas attacked themselves to General Sterling Price's cavalry.

IV

Cut off from Price, the guerrillas fought wickedly and with momentary success. Jesse pursued and killed Captain Emmett Gross, the column's commander and, as his victim knelt defenseless and in agonized pleading for recognition of the cloth he wore, blew out the brains of the regimental chaplain,
the Rev. U. P. Gradenier. In the confusion which ensued, he was able to lead his followers into the temporary safety of the broken hills flanking the scene.

The following day, in attempting to leave the hills and rejoin Price,
the harried raiders were sighted
by a scout band of 75 Federal Cherokees.

In the resulting clash, a running action which continued until late afternoon, 52 of the Indian cavalry were slain. But the fight swept miles to the west of Price's line of retreat. The alarm lit by the previous day's fight with Jennison's Fifteenth ran like a grass fire from one border of the Indian Nation to the other. With dawn of the 24th, Jim Cummins and Dick Maddox
returned from a scout to report no less than five Federal patrols of company strength between them
and Jesse's bogged-down command. They were isolated.

At a hand-gallop, Jesse swung
his hunters south for Texas
and the border.

In March, 1865, Texas was lit-
erally the "long star" remaining
in the battle flag of the Confed-

"Boy!" he commanded. "Set down and let up on your walking around. You're not going to stomp yourself out of this trouble."
"Ma," he said at last, breaking nervously under the steady regard,
"what's a man to do. They've got me rode down to my last five men.
They clearly mean to give me no
chance."

Above anything on earth—above
Frank, above self, above husband,
home, or fireside, or even treasured Confederate cause—she might love this watery-eyed, homely, second son of hers. Yet, in the end,
there was that difference in them
that deep sense of the right and the wrong, as set forward in the laws of the Old Testament.

"You've only one chance, boy,"
she said grimly. "And it is a chance they will not give you. I will help you, son. But only if you will help yourself—only if you will agree to come in."

"Come in!" He stepped back from her as though she had slapped him in the face. "You can't mean that, Ma! Not for me to give myself up to the Federals?"
"It can be arranged, given time."
She clipped the words off meaningfully. "And you know that."

Cost of Living Index Unchanged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living set a record for stability by remaining unchanged last month, the government reported today.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics also said take-home pay and purchasing power of the average factory worker set records in March for the second month in a row.

The BLS said that the consumer price index stood at 114.3 per cent of 1947-49 average prices in March for the fourth consecutive month. This was the first time it has stood perfectly steady for that long in the 14 years that the BLS has been issuing monthly indices.

Acting BLS Commissioner Arny Wickens said the steadiness of the cost of living index reflected "a well sustained, high level market" except in agriculture, where she noted that farm prices are continuing "to drift downward."

A PENNY'S WORTH OF ELECTRICITY WILL RUN AN ELECTRIC FOOD MIXER

More Than Two Hours

No amount of human effort can match the exactness in operation of the electric food mixer. Gives you the right speeds, constant speeds for a thorough mixing job, for all of the many and varied jobs it does. And low cost electricity makes possible hours and hours of labor-saving performance from all your electric servants. Yes, there's still ONE penny that gives you real, full value — in fact, more value than you can probably get anywhere today. That's the electric service penny. A penny today doesn't go far when you buy most commodities. But the low penny is truly big money when you buy electric service.

Lighten Your Housework

It's a powerful penny — really "full of power" — because it does so many jobs in your home. One reason your electric service is possible at this low cost is because you are using more electricity than ever before — the more electric service you use, the less it costs per job. That's why electricity serves you better today, for less money.

Pat and Mike Go Together—To Their Deaths

CHICAGO (AP)—The note said: "Pat and Mike they go together."

And so they did, in death as in life.

It was a life marked by tragedy for Michael Milford, 44, and his wife, Patricia, 40.

They lost their first child in infancy. Their second was killed in an auto accident. Last Sunday, Milford was told he would be dismissed from his job with the Anti-Cruelty Society.

Thursday, Mrs. Milford put on make up, set her hair, and put on her prettiest dress. Then she and her husband took 25 sleeping tablets apiece.

But Mrs. Milford awoke and found the pills hadn't killed them. She wrote several notes describing the murder-suicide ordeal. One of the notes said, "Pat and Mike they go together."

She said she had vowed that if the pills didn't work, she would shoot her husband first and then herself. She kept her word.

The bodies of Pat and Mike, both shot through the head, were found in the apartment they occupied above the society. Their arms were entwined, and their left wrists were linked together by a piece of gold-braided cord.

Property Owners Appeal Toll Road Ruling To Supreme Court

CHICAGO (AP)—An appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court was in the mails today from Illinois property owners opposing the state's proposed 193-mile turnpike system.

John J. Yowell, attorney for the property owners, said Thursday the appeal is from a U. S. District Court decision in favor of the state handed down earlier this year.

A full hearing would probably delay a decision until the October court term. The Toll Road Commission wants a favorable ruling this spring so it can get construction of the highways under way.

Asst. State's Atty. Gen. George W. McGurn, assigned to represent the Toll Road Commission, said an immediate decision will be made on whether to ask the high court for quick action.

Got an itch to switch the pitch?

Here's the New Hit in Hardtops—the 4-Door Riviera

WANT to do what a pilot does when he clears for take-off?

Want to feel the pulse-quickening thrill that comes of giving the gun to a high-powered automobile with the world's first airplane-inspired transmission?

Want to try Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo®—the spectacular new wonder drive that's the talk of car makers and car buyers alike—and the drive that's sending Buick sales soaring to new record-breaking highs?

Well, sir—be our test-pilot guest at the wheel of a '55 Buick and let today's Dynaflo do the honors.

When you press the pedal as you normally would, you move ahead in velvety smoothness, getting plenty of miles from each gallon of gas . . .

Because twenty propeller-like blades inside the Dynaflo unit, spinning in oil, have an angle of "pitch" for top economy—like the modern plane's propellers when cruising in the air.

But comes the need for emergency acceleration, and—like a pilot does for quick take-off and climb—you switch the pitch of those Dynaflo propellers for action, just by pressing the pedal all the way down.

Instantly, you get full-power response for split-second getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge to get out of a tight spot on the highway.

It's a response thrilling beyond all previous experience—because there's never been anything like it before in any car.

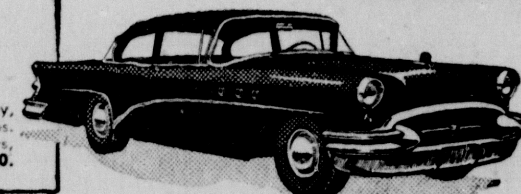

And we'd like you to try it—along with the walloping new V8 power, the cruiser-steady ride, the fine handling ease, and the true big-car roominess that are all part and parcel of every Buick.

Can you come in today—this week, for sure—and test pilot the hottest Buick yet built?

Salesman on FHA
'Blacklist' Plunges
From Hotel Window

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—John J. McGagh, a Rockford, Ill., house siding salesman who had allegedly been put on a Federal Housing Authority "blacklist," plunged to his death from a hotel room window.

Peace Justice James L. McKenna said today that McGagh's death early Thursday was a suicide.

McGagh, 36, fell from his sixth floor of the Beachfront Hotel. He had registered there several weeks ago under the name of J. McNalley of Atlanta, Ga.

Police discovered his true identity from papers in his effects. They said Illinois authorities told them he had been put on the "blacklist" during a housing scandal investigation.

Big 3 Agree to Discuss Austria Pact with Russia

LONDON (AP)—The Western Big Three agreed today to meet with Russia May 2 to draft an Austrian state treaty and called a conference of diplomats in London to lay the groundwork for still broader Big Four talks.

The West swung into a summer diplomatic offensive as French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay flew back to Paris after London conferences designed to align French and British policies towards world trouble spots.

British officials disclosed the three Western ambassadors in Moscow delivered to the Soviet Foreign Ministry today identical notes calling for a meeting of Big Four ambassadors in Vienna May 2 to write the treaty freeing Austria from military occupation.

The Western reply—side-stepped Russia's proposal for the Big Four foreign ministers to meet urgently to complete the long-delayed treaty. The Soviet proposal was made after agreement was reached with Austrian officials in Moscow on a treaty draft.

Reliable sources said today's Western notes told Russia the Big Four ambassadors should meet first to get diplomatic spadework out of the way. The West added that the foreign ministers could then meet afterward to sign any treaty agreed on, the sources said.

Mitsdarffers Home After Near Year in West

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mitsdarffer are again at their home on East Poplar street after leaving here last May for their ranch, Estes Park, Colo., where they spent the summer and fall. In July, Mrs. Mitsdarffer entered Colorado university at Boulder, where she studied Creative Writing with Novelist Philip Wylie, Short Story with Donald Werwick and TV with Fred Coe and others. Leaving Colorado Nov. 1, they enjoyed an interesting five months on the ocean in Santa Monica, Calif., with various visits to Palm Springs and other points in California and Nevada.

They saw the Rose Parade and Rose Bowl game in Pasadena New Year's day, the antique show in Long Beach, the California flower show, and attended the famous San Souci Celebrities club annual dinner party at the Ambassador hotel, where they saw hundreds of celebrities in all fields of endeavor, and enjoyed numerous other items of interest.

They also renewed friendship with several former Harrisburg and Colorado friends while on the coast.

En route home they spent the week end in Las Vegas, Nevada, where they began encountering violent dust storms. Again, from Las Vegas, New Mexico, to Pueblo, Colo., where they visited briefly with Mrs. Hazel Gaskins Edwards, and son, Robert, driving was hazardous due to the wind and dust.

Arriving in Estes Park, they spent three days at the National Park hotel while attending to their property and greeting old friends. Through an error, their names have been eliminated from the phone directory here. Their number is, as always, 488R.

Eisenhower Meets With Baptist Ministers

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, in high good humor, told 130 Baptist ministers and their wives today that friends once told him there were more Baptists in Texas than anywhere else and "some day you may need them."

The President smilingly emphasized that at that point in his career he had not entered politics. The President told the story to the Baptists in the White House rose garden, where only azaleas were in bloom.

The Baptist ministers were in Washington as part of a nationwide evangelistic crusade.

Local Woman and Brother Reunited
After 35 Years
Mrs. Nancy Elizabeth Duncan,
110 Dayton, wife of the late J. W.
Duncan, was reunited recently
with a brother, Albert Tucker,
whom she had never seen nor heard from for 35 years.
Mr. Tucker, who is a cattle raiser on a 400 acre farm in Pocahontas, Ark., had received word years ago that Mrs. Duncan had passed away. About three months ago he returned to his home town
in Arlington, Ky., for a birth certificate and learned through a first cousin that his sister was still living and in Harrisburg. He and Mrs. Tucker and their grandson visited with Mrs. Duncan three weeks ago.
Also Mrs. Duncan had not heard from her sister, Mrs. May Smith, Bonita, La., for 25 years, and two half sisters, Mrs. Amby Rhiney, Noble, Ark., 35 years, and Mrs.
Ruby Jones who visited with Mrs. Duncan 24 years ago.
Mrs. Tucker informed his sister and two half sisters of Mrs. Duncan's whereabouts and the five are now corresponding frequently.
Mrs. Duncan was born in Arlington, Ky., in 1876. She reared two daughters, Mrs. Jess Yates of Raleigh, and Mrs. Zola McClure
who passed away four years ago.
In her family are five generations.

Strike Threatens Vaccine Firm

DETROIT (AP) — Labor unrest at Parke, Davis & Co. threatened today to shut off one of the major sources of Salk vaccine.
The threat of a strike against the company, one of six national firms producing Salk vaccine,
arose Thursday when a union of federal contractors the company had refused to bargain in good faith.
The firm currently is supplying the vaccine to Michigan, Illinois, Wyoming and Utah. A spokesman said the firm expected to be producing the vaccine at a rate of 300,000 complete immunizations a week by the end of the year.
A contract between the union and the company expires May 1.
Negotiations have been in progress
since March 1.

Colonel Repeats Ban on Shorts, Jeans, Bare Midriffs

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Col. John E. Dilley renewed his attack on the "Frankfurt fannies"
today by repeating his ban on bare backs, bare midriffs, plunging necklines, shorts and blue jeans.
Dilley, commander of the Frankfurt sub-area, said American women appearing in such attire
at U. S. military installations would be refused admission after April 27.
His order was more or less a restatement of the one he issued last summer which caused a furore among Army wives and earned him the nickname of "the Army's fearless arbiter on fashions
and morals."

House Proposal Asks Mental Health Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House
passed by voice vote Thursday a resolution calling for a nationwide
three-year study into all aspects of mental health.
The study would be conducted by non-governmental research and psychiatric groups to be designated by the U. S. surgeon general.
The bill would authorize an expenditure of 1 1/2 million dollars
over a three year period on the study.

Find Bodies of Two Infant Girls

AURORA, Ill. (AP) — Authorities
tried today to find out whether two infant girls whose bodies were found in a cess pool were stillborn
or living infants who were disposed of.
The bodies were found Thursday
by a workman, Ralph Vanderhyden, Joliet, who was cleaning the pool at a trailer camp near here.
Officials said there were some indications the babies were twins.
Coroner L. Victor Peterson estimated the bodies may have been in the pool two or three weeks.

Indiana to Ask Death Penalty for Confessed Slayer

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — The State of Indiana will ask the death penalty against Leslie Irvin for one of the six murders he has confessed committing.
Irvin, 30-year-old prison parolee,
was indicted on two first degree murder counts by the Vanderburgh County grand jury Thursday. The counts involved the slayings in Evansville last December of W.
Wesley Kerr, a filling station attendant, and Mrs. Mary Holland, a liquor store clerk.
Prosecutor David Weaver said he wants to try Irvin for the Kerr murder first and will ask the death penalty.

Irvin, a moody construction worker, also has confessed killing a Mount Vernon, Ind., housewife and slaying three members of a Henderson, Ky., family in "Chinese execution" fashion.
All six of the victims were shot
through the head and the hands of four of them were bound. Irvin said the slayings started out as burglaries, from which he netted a total of only $300.

Puncher Willie Troy Meets Boxer Pastrano Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—Willie Troy, a knockout victor of 23 of his 33 opponents, risks his power punch on television tonight against Willie Pastrano, a fancy boxer, and the slugger had no doubt of the outcome.

"I've fought good fellows before," Troy said. "Fellows like Randy Sandy. They didn't beat me, and I don't think this guy will either."

Pastrano, an 8-5 favorite to win the battle, in his last start convincingly outpointed Al Andrews in the Chicago Stadium ring, the site of the fight tonight.

"I've got to gain weight for this one," Troy said. "I've been training right along. I weighed 160 when I got here. I figure to put on a pound or two before I get into the ring."

Contract weights for the brawl were 165 pounds, give or take a pound, and Pastrano, at 19 still growing and likely to end up as a 195-pound heavyweight, figured he would weigh 165 or slightly higher. Troy, 22, wanted to get heavier to avoid giving away too much poundage.

Troy, who was a substitute foe for the brawl, replacing Ernie Durando, said he had trained longer and harder than Durando for the bout. Hence, he would have no concern about condition.

Troy has lost only to Holly Mims, Joey Giardello and Floyd Patterson in his pro career, while Pastrano, who has fought only once outside of his Southern home territory, has won 30 of 36 battles with a draw.

DOWNHILL TRAFFIC—Pascual Perez, world flyweight champion, goes down after throwing a punch at Alberto Barengi, top, in a non-title fight in Buenos Aires. Floored twice in the third round, Barengi falls back into the ropes as he tries to regain his feet, bottom. Here a second throw in the towel.

Army Approves Citation for War II Pigeon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army today approved a citation for a pigeon called "G. I. Joe" as an "outstanding hero of World War II."

Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens said in a letter to Rep. Carl Vinson of the Armed Services Committee that the Army does not object to joint congressional resolution 253 authorizing the appropriation of defense to "issue an appropriate citation" for "G. I. Joe" of Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

The resolution calling for the citation was introduced March 14 by Rep. Cecil R. King (D-Calif.). Stevens described "G. I. Joe," a blue-checked splashed cock, as "one of the most outstanding heroes of World War II."

He said the bird saved 1,000 British troops from a bombing and possible annihilation at Colvi Vecchia, Italy, on Oct. 18, 1943.

Stevens said a delay of another five minutes in getting warning of the bombing might have spelled disaster for a thousand troops of the British 169th Brigade.

The pigeon made the trip of 20 miles from 10th Signal Corps Headquarters in about 20 minutes, averaging 60 miles per hour.

In recognition of this feat, G. I. Joe has already received the Dicks Medal, the highest British decoration of its kind for animals.

Joe is now assigned to duty at Ft. Monmouth where the Signal Corps maintains a thousand other service pigeons.

Trailer Population Put At 700,000 Families

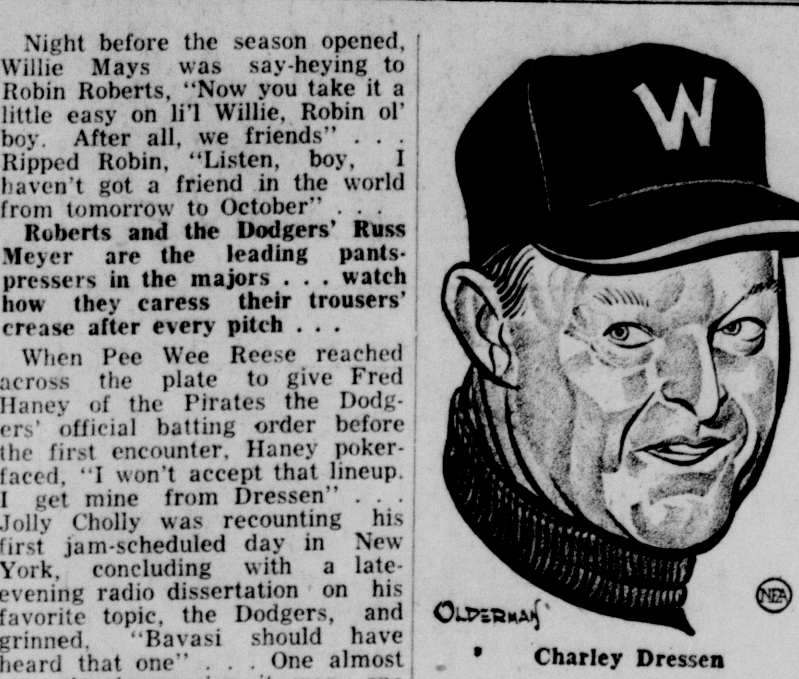

CLEVELAND, O. (AP)—More than 700,000 families live in mobile trailers, according to the Mobilization Dealers National Association.

The association said the families have an average annual income of nearly $5,000, which is above the national average. It says most of the families are craftsmen and industrial workers who move about the country with their trailers to wherever they can find the best jobs.

IRON MAN

BETWEEN YOU'N' ME

Charley Dessen

While before the season opened, Willie Mays was saying-hoping to Robin Roberts, "Now you take it a little easy on li'l Willie, Robin ol' boy. After all, we friends" . . . Ripped Robin, "Listen, boy, I haven't got a friend in the world from tomorrow to October."

Roberts and the Dodgers' Russ Meyer are the leading pants-pessers in the majors . . . watch how they caress their trousers' crease after every pitch . . .

When Pee Wee reached across the plate to give Fred Haney of the Pirates the Dodgers' official bunting order before the first encounter, Haney boked-faced, "I won't accept that lineup. I get mine from Dessen."

Jolly Cholly was recounting his first jam-scheduled day in New York, concluding with a late-evening radio dissertation on his favorite topic, the Dodgers, and grinned, "Bavasi should have heard that one." One almost gets the impression it was one of the vice-preses around the Dodger office, rather than Walter O'Malley, who paved Dessen's exit.

Is it true they've spelled out Washington on the Senators' uniforms this year because nobody knew what the old "W" stood for? . . .

The Nats' first baseman, Mickey Vernon, was passing the time of day with an old personal fan, President Eisenhower, who solicited inquired, "How are you, Mickey, and how are things at home?" "Fine, Mr. President," replied Mickey, a known verbal conversationalist. . . . Later in the dugout, a teammate wondered, "You mean that's all you said to him, Mickey?" "What'd you want me to do," drawled Vernon, "ask him how things were at the White House?"

"The Bridges of Toko-Ri," a flicker based on naval air warfare in Korea, so unnerved one major league during a spring training screening that he came out of the theater with his hands trembling . . . Lloyd Merriman the Cubs' outfielder, had gone through those experiences as an ace in Korea . . .

The spring training grind took 16 pounds off lean Texan Jim Busby of Washington, who claims he's too old (all of 28) to indulge in any foot races with the Yanks' Mickey Mantle . . . The right collar-bone that Jim fractured as a footballer at Texas Christian (he also broke the other one) still bothers him throwing every spring until the main impediment to Bruce Edwards' comeback with the Nats is not his arm, but the fact he didn't catch the last two seasons while devoting full time to third base.

A top executive in a top major league organization is paid less (around $15,000) than half the players on his team's roster . . .

The world bantamweight situation is in such a mish-mash that it took us two weeks to find out

Carrier Mills Nine Wins Fourth Game of Season

Carrier Mills high school baseball team won its fourth game of the season Thursday afternoon, defeating Ridgway, 7-6. Carrier Mills is undefeated for the year.

Trailing 6-4 going into the last of the sixth, Carrier Mills came up with a three run rally and the victory.

Evans and Hooven each batted in three runs for the winners. Mills, Ridgway hurler, paced his team at bat with three safe blows.

Carrier Mills has been without the services of Jerry Sweat, ace pitcher, this week. Sweat injured an ankle over the week end and was on crutches until yesterday afternoon.

Next week Carrier Mills will play two games, going to Ridgway Monday and hosting McLeansboro Friday.

Line score of Thursday's game: 203 010-5 5
Carrier Mills—7 9 2
Batteries—Ridgway, Mills and Barger; Carrier Mills, Collins and Hooven, Absher, Evans and Collins.

Porterfield Blanks Red Sox, 1-0; Dodgers Set Record Of 10 Wins to Start Season

By United Press
Easygoing Bob Porterfield, popularly known as "Porterhouse" around the Washington clubhouse, could be just the man who'll help the long-starved Senators to a rare slice of first division money this year.

The Senators haven't cut into the first division pot since 1948 but Manager Chuck Dressen says he thinks they'll do it this year, particularly "if Porterfield comes through for us."

Porterfield came through like a charm Thursday when he struck out seven batters, bore down especially well in the pinches and pitched the Senators to a three-hit 1-0 triumph over the league-leading Boston Red Sox. Only one Boston runner, Faye Threlkerry, got as far as third base but he was stranded there in the ninth inning as Bullet Bob retired Harry Agganis on a fly ball for the final out.

Porterfield's Second Win
The Senators broke through Tom Brewer for the only run of the game—and their first run in 20 consecutive innings—in the ninth on a walk to Roy Sievers plus back-to-back singles by Eddie Yost and Pete Runnels. The victory, Porterfield's second of the season, reversed a 1-0 Red Sox triumph of the night before and gave Washington a .500 mark for six games so far this year.

George Kell and Mike Fornieles combined talents to give the White Sox a 9-1 victory over the Tigers. Kell smashed a grand-slam homer off loser Ned Garver in the third inning while Fornieles limited the Tigers to five hits. Detroit's lone run was a result of Al Kaline's sixth inning home run. Chicago moved to within a game of pace-setting Boston by winning.

In the only other game scheduled in the American league, the New York Yankees crushed the Baltimore Orioles, 14-2. Bob Turley, acquired from the Orioles during the winter, had things all his own way as he struck out eight, gave up only five hits and was given a four-run cushion in the first inning. Hank Bauer smashed a homer for the Yankees, leading off the first inning and Les Moss connected for one for Baltimore in the ninth. Lou Kretlow, first of three Oriole hurlers, was charged with the loss.

Dodgers Win Tenth
The Brooklyn Dodgers trampled the Philadelphia Phillies, 14-4, thereby setting a modern major league record of 10 consecutive victories at the start of the season.

Routing the Robin Roberts with a seven-run rally in the seventh inning, the Dodgers erased the previous record of nine victories in a row at the outset held jointly by themselves, the Giants and the St. Louis Browns, who did it last in 1944. The year they won their only pennant.

Brooklyn hammered three Phillies' pitchers for 17 hits, including home runs by Jackie Robinson, Duke Snider, Sandy Amoros and Don Zimmer, who also had two doubles and a single. Russ Pittsburgh, was postponed because of wet grounds.

The proportion of women among all persons at work in the United States increased from 17 per cent in 1890 to 24 per cent in 1940 and was close to 30 per cent in 1952.

Chevrolet's compression ratio is 8 to 1, to wring every possible ounce of power and extra miles out of every gallon of gas.

Requires only four quarts of oil!
Chevrolet's V8 engines are so efficient they need only four quarts of oil . . . so you save on every change!

Highest horsepower per pound!
These great V8's weigh far less than any similar engine in America, top the low-cost field in power per pound!

Shortest piston stroke in the industry!
Three-inch stroke reduces cylinder-wall friction, generates less heat, permits more compact design.

The pistons do far less traveling per mile . . . that means less engine wear, lighter loads on bearings.

It's the valve-in-head V8 as only the valve-in-head leader can build it!

AMA President Asks Salk Vaccine Priority to Dangerous Age Groups

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Elmer Hess, President-elect of the American Medical Assn., recommended today that Americans in the greatest danger of getting polio be given top priority in distribution of Salk vaccine.

Hess made the proposal as the national polio conference got underway here today in an effort to draft a voluntary distribution and priority plan.

Hess told reporters that the age groups known to produce the most polio cases statistically should get first call on Salk shots while supplies are short.

He also said preferential treatment should be given to areas where epidemics may be suspected or where they have occurred with unusual frequency in the past.

Hess said the AMA recommended the age group priority system to the conference. Not being an expert, he said he couldn't specify the ages. But the group in most danger is known to be children 5 to 9 years old.

"Great Hearts and Minds" Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of health, education, and welfare, told newsmen that "great hearts and minds" had assembled to cope with the vaccine supply situation.

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said he hopes "some solution to this problem" would come out of the conference.

Earlier, the drug industry recommended creation of an impartial committee to direct distribution of all Salk vaccine throughout the country.

It said this would be the best way to assure fair handling of the life-saving shots during the next 100 days when supplies are especially short.
